Hola!

This is Kaypacha with the weekly Pele Report for October 25th of 2017.

That heavy Moon is in Capricorn, ladies and gentlemen, if you're feeling heavy! (*laughing) And tomorrow, Thursday, she conjuncts Pluto, then she goes on to square Ouranos (Uranus). These are dark, heavy times with Sun in the darkest sign of Scorpio coming up to conjunct with Jupiter.

Tomorrow, Thursday, the 26th, so we have Sun conjunct Jupiter. Mercury is also moving through Scorpio and coming closer and closer to what? Squaring the Moon's Nodes and that is exact on Sunday. Mercury in Scorpio squares the Moon's Nodes. I'll be talking a little bit about that.

And if that's not heavy enough, let's go on to Friday where Venus squares Pluto, the ruler of Scorpio. (*laughing) And we have what? The 1st quarter Moon. The Moon is over there in Aquarius by Friday and comes into a 1st quarter square, squaring the Sun in Scorpio, 4 degrees, 41 minutes, is our square Moon.

Saturday things lighten up a little bit, the Moon comes into trine with Venus, that's nice. Again, Sunday we've got the Mercury square and the Moon goes into Pisces. So that's pretty nice. She's going to trine Jupiter on Monday, come into a trine with the Sun and occult Neptune. Tuesday, then she comes around and conjuncts with Chiron, squares Saturn. And by then, it's time for another Pele Report! (*laughing)

Before I get into it, I do want to say tomorrow with the Sun conjunct Jupiter, myself and members from the New Paradigm Astrology Dream Team, will be donning costumes and discussing Jupiter moving into Scorpio – (Kaypacha's role). Saturn moving from Sagittarius to Capricorn, will be there to talk to us – (Christina Caudill's role). Chiron moving from Pisces into Aries will be there to talk to us – (Timothy Halloran's role). Uranus, next year, moving from Aries to Taurus will be there to talk to us – (Eugenia Krok's role). And Pluto in Capricorn will be there to talk to us – (Sol Jonassen's role). So that will be available to the NPA Community. Those of you who are like super into this kind of stuff should get into the community because we are having a blast.

The big thing I wanted to mention here overlaying all of this, we are coming up to Saturn square Chiron. I just finished an hour-long video yesterday for the community once again. Going and taking that Saturn square Chiron through the 12 houses of zodiac, as Part 2 of the Great Saturn/Chiron Square of 2017. The first one was last December of 2016. So, this is a culmination of stuff that I am going to talk more about in the Pele Report. But this is a real culmination of stuff that has been coming up all through the year. The third and final square of that Saturn to Chiron is exact on November 2nd. So, let me look at the camera and just check out what this is all about...

Ok... I am preparing my role as Jupiter in Scorpio tomorrow. (*laughing) I don't know if you saw my Facebook page, but OMG! I got a great mask down in Peru a couple of weeks ago. Anyway, Jupiter in Scorpio and now the Sun coming up tomorrow for the next three days, the Sun conjunct Sun in Scorpio, if Jupiter in Scorpio is not enough, you put the Sun there and it just explodes it up. What is it like? I want to liken it a little bit to water boarding. (*laughing) Where they take the prisoner and stick your head in the water, 'And now are you going to tell the truth? Now are you going to confess?' Jupiter is big and Scorpio is forces beyond our control – this is deep water, this is the well! We're deep sea diving down to the bottom of the frickin' ocean.

And? You have to put this into a greater context. Jupiter is whipping around compared to Chiron. Chiron goes around every 51 years and Saturn goes around every 28 years. These are big guys! So, Saturn square Chiron is looming over the top of this Sun/Jupiter moving through Scorpio. This is a little more like, I don't want to say icing on the cake, maybe Jupiter in Scorpio is the filling and the Sun coming through is the icing. But the cake is like, you want to look at the whole context of what is going on here and it includes Black Moon Lilith, conjunct Saturn, conjunct the Galactic Center on the last few degrees of Sagittarius after a year. Black Moon Lilith went into Sagittarius in February, Saturn went in there a couple of years ago. It's like, truth, honesty, the expansion of consciousness to embrace new foreign elements, wider realities, philosophies and beliefs. This is about stepping outside.

And then we want to look at Scorpio, what is Scorpio? I've said it a thousand times, the water houses and signs have to do with endings. The fire signs are new beginnings. Aries to Cancer, the unconscious, impulsive, instinctive, innocent, boisterous, new impulse, evolutionary intention, whatever you want to call it, dies in Cancer. What is born out of Cancer is Leo, the individual, superman, wonder woman - I, me, my, self-consciousness, my original, creative, so frickin' awesome! (*laughing)

And then it gets a little humbled in Virgo and then it gets super humbled in Scorpio. Scorpio is the end, the death of the ego. The image I was giving is like a boat builder, maybe even Noah building the Ark. So, you get this creative impulse in Leo, 'I want to paint a painting. I want to make jewelry, or build a boat or something.' So, in Scorpio, what do you get to do? Give it away, man. (*laughing) The Lord of all creation has commissioned each one of us to build up our ego, to build up our earthly sense of self, only to give it away. Only for that boat to carry what?

The birth of Sagittarius is the birth of transpersonal consciousness. Transpersonal means, there's the community and it's only through this letting go, this sacrifice, this humbling, surrendering to the bigger, wider, greater forces. It's get over your selfishness. Scorpio is the opposite of Taurus. Taurus is, 'I, me, my. My money, my possessions, my car, my orgasm, my house, my stuff.' Scorpio is the opposite of that. This is the bank. This is the powerful business partner. This is the powerful sexual partner or the spouse. This is the real powerful, intense cauldron. We're all getting thrown into the cauldron of alchemical transformation. The witches, the wise women are stirring us up for Halloween. Only guess what? It's going on for a year - Jupiter is in Scorpio for a year - we're getting stirred up! We're getting tested. We're getting burned, transformed. We're getting cooked in that cauldron of intense, deep, alchemical relationship!

So, whether its sexual, emotional, financial or intellectual, maybe it's a Guru who's going to pull you through. Or maybe it's a Shaman that's going to pull you through. Or maybe it's your therapist that's going to show you your shadow. Maybe it's your partner that's going to show you your shadow. But, it's shadow time, shadow time and you don't get to see by looking in the mirror yourself, in the bathroom, in the morning. 'Oh, there I am.' You don't see your shadow, somebody else does! That's why we are men and women, that's why we are, that's why we don't self-procreate. We're not Scarab in Egypt, the only creature that reproduces itself. Guess what? It's a trick of creation. It's a setup, man. (*laughing)

We need other people to point out our shit, our shadow, our unconscious. You don't become conscious of your unconscious just by sitting there in meditation - so sorry, man! Maybe in the Age of Pisces, the last couple of thousands of years, with the Christ and the Buddha and everything - but sorry, man - this is the Age of Aquarius - it's community, it's groups. So, we've got this 1st quarter square Moon coming in from Aquarius. If you want enlightenment, Aquarius, the third-eye, know it all, see it all, whatever. Boom square to Scorpio, Scorpio is going to take you down, take you in to like really show you your stuff.

We incarnated onto this planet, into these bodies, closing off some of our multi-dimensional awareness, in order to go into the cave, go into the jungle, go into the forest, go into the dark in order to discover some treasure. And in order to do some healing, in order to understand and really own something that we could in no other way see, do, feel or master... so yeah, we're in the jungle... Scorpio is the jungle, it's the dragon. And it's not killing the dragon out of fear, but facing our fears, facing the dragon, taming that sucker. We want to be dragon riders, man! What does that remind me of, what was that movie where they ride the dragons, or whatever? Ah, forget it.

Mercury is square the Nodes, talk about that. Here comes Mercury in Scorpio, deep conversation, deep thinking. And squares to the Nodes are like, you've got to do it, it's a detour. You can't get to that North Node in Leo and be creative and just be the belle of the ball or whatever, without having the deep, intentional conversation. Like, getting down deep with your partners, business, or Gurus, teachers, spouses or whoever and probably your own kids these days, with these little kids with Pluto in Capricorn, straightening out their parents. (*laughing) OMG, it's the other, it could be the bank, the lawyer, the taxman. You're stock broker is going to straighten you out. (*laughing)

Anyway... let's look at the mantra, it just kind of sums it up.

The Mantra:

The more we share the deeper we go,
And the more the truth is revealed.
The more we stay without turning away,
The more our wounds can be healed.

I mean you really want to look at this, Chiron is the wounded healer. This Saturn square Chiron, Sun/Jupiter in Scorpio, the Shaman, the therapist, the underworld. These are physiological wounds. Scorpio has to do with letting go of the past, letting go of just about everything. It's letting go of yourself in some way, shape and form, your conditioning and your patterning. It is death and wounding and it stinks. Scorpio is excrement, Scorpio is the compost pile. Scorpio is the Cancer, Pluto rules Cancer. So, the doctor focusing, if we're going to heal these wounds, they're ugly to look at, they're stinky and they're smelly and the worms are crawling and maggots. The ambulance driver showing up on the freeway car crash with mutilated bodies and stuff like that. This is the gnarly shit of life and death. This is intense. And the tendency is to avoid it, deny it, run away from it, distract ourselves with happy, smiley pictures on Facebook and all this other cool, neat stuff that we're all doing and all let's just party. It's like, come on, man!

Jupiter is saying, get in and look at the guts, look at the guts. Get some balls and face the smelly, stinky crap, because and this is also where the compost pile becomes new life. This is where the blood and guts like really is the mysteries of life and death. And this is where the master goes and faces, he doesn't run away and hide from the dragon. No, you face it. It's evil, it's fears, it's taboo, it's skeletons, it's Halloween. The day of the dead, it mummies and stinky corpses and stuff. Jupiter is saying, there's some great truth, some great mystery to be revealed by looking at our shadow, by looking at our shit, by looking at our stuff. We will become the Shaman, the therapist, master, alchemist ourselves. We will transform the lead into gold – that is what alchemy is all about. What do you expect with the Moon in Scorpio, it's a heavy report. (*laughing)

Let's try that Mantra one more time:

The more we share the deeper we go,
And the more the truth is revealed.
The more we stay without turning away,
The more our wounds can be healed.

Yeah, it's intense, hang in there, hold that intensity. We're all getting put in the blacksmith's fire and hammered into the Excalibur's sword of King Arthur!

Namaste, Aloha, So Much Love!
