Hola, Earthlings!

This is Kaypacha with another weekly Pele Report for January 17th of 2018. And of course, I am down by the river, one of the first songs I learned on guitar by, Neil Young, one of my favorites and I think it's about three cords. (*laughing)

Anyway, I had to get away from that computer screen, OMG, all this Capricorn/Aquarius, all this business, it's a little bit intense, eh! How did you like that board meeting last weekend, with what? We had Sun/Moon/Venus/Saturn/Pluto and the new Moon yesterday, in Capricorn. So, business, business, working, figuring it out, it's all been going on. Now today, the Moon moved into Aquarius, so the nice Moon in Aquarius. Today, Venus joins that Moon in Aquarius. And by golly, on Friday, the Sun moves into Aquarius.

So, there's a little bit of a shift here going on, from earth to outer space. I call Aquarius more outer space than air – there's no air out there, it's too thin. Aquarius is kind of the atmosphere of the Earth actually that it has to do with – which is strongly affected strongly by the collective consciousness - which is why we've had so many hurricanes! (*laughing)

Trying to climb over rocks here, talk and run this camera all at the same time and it's not working.

Tomorrow, Mars still in Scorpio and going on for a while there. It's trine Chiron in Pisces, very beautiful. The Moon comes up to her own South Node, on Thursday. This weekend the Moon goes into Pisces on Friday - that's a nice weekend, Moon in Pisces, sweet! By Monday, that Moon goes back into Aries, some fire. Moon squares Saturn. Wednesday, we have an exact conjunction of Mercury with Pluto.

So, we've had a lot of stuff going on with Pluto here. Mercury is like moving right on through there, hit's Saturn and Lilith and it's coming up to Pluto, it's doing it's kind of thing, happening. So, I want to talk about that. And today, I have a special report. Let me see if I can find a good place to do it. I see some nice waterfalls over there in the distance. So, let me find a place to sit and look at the camera and I'll talk to you.

Okay, Everybody. All you humans out there, it's story time with Uncle Kaypacha. (*laughing) I have a story to tell you all today about Major Tom.

Major Tom was an astronaut and it wasn't that long ago. He was an Aries and he was really fascinated by the planets. He came up suddenly, just like an Aries would, with this idea, he's like, 'You know what? I've got to go to Mars. I want to be the first person to set foot on Mars. I've been doing this back and forth to the Moon enough. I am going to Mars. I am fired up about this.' This is Aries, new idea, impulse.

So, Taurus. He develops himself, his money, his resources, his capacity, to really like, go long distance, hold his breath, do this this anti-gravity stuff. He starts learning more about Mars, this, that and the other thing. Starts really getting it together. Starting to look at what kind of spaceship he needs to get it that far. How he would have to store his food, if he could survive. He starts gathering all the stuff he would need in order to pull off that desire. That's Taurus, 2nd house.

And now he moves into Gemini. He starts talking to his brothers and sisters. (*laughing) He starts talking to his friends and he starts spreading out. And then, he starts learning, he starts learn more about the Solar System, more about rockets. More education, more networking, putting the word out there. Maybe starting to spend some money on this. It's like, 'Where do I want to take off from? Where do I want to make my blast off point? He starts networking, that's Gemini, 3rd house. Learning, more learning.

Then it goes into Cancer. Okay, boom... Cape Canaveral! 'By God, I am talking to NASA with my Gemini phase. I've got enough money. I've got enough money together to blast off from Cape Canaveral. I'm going to rent the place or whatever.' Starts really making a home, a foundation, getting this thing real, it's just not an idea anymore. It's kind of taken some form, some shape. He's got some friends involved, a lot of money involved... boom, foundation!

Get's into Leo. Starts creating, he starts creating. It's like, 'Okay, here's the design of the rocket. Here's all I need. I'm going on stage, I'm going to announce it.' He makes a big public statement. 'I'm going to be the first man on Mars. Hey, look at me, this is going to be outrageous.' He's all full of it, full of it, full of it, right?

So, he starts building a rocket, Virgo. Goes to work on it and what does he do? Well, he runs into some technical problems. (*laughing) He runs out of money and has some challenges. He's kind of humbled a little bit and it's like, 'I don't know if I can pull this off. Maybe, just maybe, I need some help. Maybe, I can't do this all by myself.' Like Aries would like to. (*laughing)

So, boom... goes into Libra. I'm open to partnership, open to relationship. Puts the word out there, 'Hey everybody, want to be my partner? Want to do this with me? I'm taking applications, I'm going to check everybody out, interview people. Maybe I need even somebody to go with me. I'm going to give up my sovereign, autonomous Aries energy, do partnership and relationship.'

So, what happens? Runs into a group of people, like big, deep pockets, multi-zillionaires, astrophysicist, with the global, the astronomic global conglomerate, with billions of dollars – Scorpio! (*laughing) And these guys go, 'Hey, we like you and will partner up with you. We will build a rocket ten times as big at the rocket you're building.' It's all this whole big thing. 'You can fly it, you can be the astronaut and everything.'

And here we move into Sagittarius. 'We don't really want to go to Mars. We want to go to the Galactic Center. We have the technology. We've got the physicist. We've got the time space, equations figured out. We've got secret formulas. And we're going to do Sagittarius, we're going to expand beyond, as the result of connection, interconnection, relationship and alchemically transformation. We're going to expand the scope of your little idea of going to Mars, to go into the frickin' Galactic Center, man!' So, Major Tom is like, 'Whoa, like whoa, whoa! Really? You really think so? I mean, like me? I would be the first person to get sucked into a black hole?' (*laughing) No, he doesn't say that! They say, 'You can go and come back! (*laughing) We're going to transport you.' You get the idea. This is expansive, Sagittarius.

And then it goes into what? Capricorn. And here we are now, we've got that Jupiter/Mars in Scorpio. We've got Saturn that just went through Sagittarius and now it's in Capricorn with Pluto. It's like, this is big business. 'We're making the biggest rocket that's ever been made. We're going farther than mankind has ever gone before. We are huge conglomerate spending millions of dollars, organizational and we're hiring people.' It's like, whoa, get it together. Delegate and make it happen. This is our Capricorn, we just had a new Moon in Capricorn.

And, Boom... zero degrees Aquarius! Venus is there today and Sun coming on Friday. What is zero degrees Aquarius? To me, guess what? It's like, it's the countdown... 10... 9... 8... 7. Major Tom is in the rocket! All the people are there. The control tower, it's the countdown. And what's going through the mind? What's going through the brain? What is Aquarius? Aquarius is the unknown. Aquarius is the future. Aquarius is groups and community. And even beyond groups and community, extraterrestrial intelligence. It's science and exploration, into the unknown. It's totally and I've said this many times, the last three signs, Capricorn, Aquarius and Pisces, these are the least personal. These are moved by the hand of the collective unconscious, the personal unconscious, the divine order. When we get into Aquarius, don't think you can control it. Don't think you can control the future. We are all part of a huge society, communities. You can't control a community, or it's not a community - it's a dictatorship and you're back in Leo.

This new paradigm and this Age of Aquarius, is out of any individual person's control. So, we've moving out of the patriarchy, we're moving out of Capricorn. We're coming and birthing into this Aquarius and nobody knows. And this is where it comes into non-attachment. The Buddhist way of releasing control. And that Major Tom is sitting there going, 'Oh my God, I have no idea what's going to happen to me when I take off. What is out there in outer space, Alien life, anything can go wrong. I mean we are totally at the mercy of the technology, totally at the mercy of the community and totally at the mercy of the cosmos.

So, this is a big point, this is a huge point. The South Node of the Moon is moving through Aquarius. Mars is going to spend almost six months in Aquarius, later on this year. Aquarius/Leo axis is like really big for people. It's a very exciting time. So, we've done a lot of work with this Capricorn energy over the last month and frickin take off. I mean like, I can't control the weather, it's raining on me, man. OMG, my camera is getting wet. This whole thing can be destroyed, my book is getting wet.

The Mantra:

Life is like an exploration,
Into outer space,
I set off with a goal in mind,
Not knowing what I'll face.

We start off, we start off every cycle, every life, every day, every relationship, every job with an intension – this is Aries. Then there's this whole process of making it happen and developing ourselves, merging with others, ultimately, wow. There's a lot of Karma in Capricorn, Saturn, Lord of Karma. There's a lot of very Galactic, multi-dimensional, divine intelligent forces, bringing about what? Aquarius is ultimately about liberation and enlightenment. It's all about knowing ourselves. It's not about reaching a goal. It's not about fulfilling our intension. Ultimately, it's about making the unconscious, conscious. Liberating ourselves, opening our 3rd eye, opening our crown chakra. Coming into the now, coming into complete awareness, total consciousness. And we see that there's a huge, big, broad, wide design. In this galaxy, on this planet, in our lives that is all about helping each and every single one of us become more and more conscious, self-conscious, aware of ourselves and that just might be one of our ultimate goals.

So, this is our point going into the unknown. My teacher, Jeffrey Green said, "You will find yourself in the unknown." (*laughing) That's because I have Uranus in the 12th house, but, anyway.

One last time:

Life is like an exploration,
Into outer space,
I set off with a goal in mind,
Not knowing what I'll face.

*I think ultimately you face yourself... we face ourselves... ahhh! (*laughing)*

Namaste, Aloha, So Much Love!

Kaypacha
