Hola!

This is Kaypacha with the weekly Pele Report for February 7th of 2018! I don't know when I'm going to get this report up, because we're just hiking up and down the Machaca River, Costa Rica, for a couple of kilometer's - I am just rock jumping! It's great with Mars in Sagittarius coming into a square with Neptune, be out in nature and get some exercise, have some fun and get the frickin' out there!

The Moon is in Scorpio today and we've got that 1st quarter Moon happening as the Sun is in Aquarius. Look at this tree, man. I got to get this tree in there, it's just too much... ahhh! Tomorrow, Thursday, the Moon goes into Sagittarius. On Friday, she's going to conjunct with Mars and go into a square with Neptune.

Then Saturday is probably the big day, Venus goes into Pisces. That Sun in Aquarius squares Jupiter over there in Scorpio, the Water Bearer (Aquarius) squaring Jupiter in Scorpio. We've got Sun/Venus/South Node of the Moon and Mercury all in Aquarius until Venus decides to exit and go into Pisces.

Saturday, the Moon goes into Capricorn and she's going to do a whole big number there and conjoining together... a little bit of a heavy weekend, Saturday and Sunday, Moon going through Capricorn. Hit's Saturn first, then Black Moon Lilith, then she goes up and hits Pluto, until Tuesday she goes into Aquarius and lightens up a little bit.

In the meantime, next Tuesday, the Sun is sextile Uranus. We've got some things going on that I want to talk about. Finally, next week, Thursday, then we have the Solar Eclipse. We just got through the Lunar Eclipse. Two weeks later, we get the Solar Eclipse with the new Moon happening. But I will be talking more about that in the next Pele Report. Right now, I think I will hike down the river a little farther before I actually talk at the camera.

Alright, everybody! This could be a short Pele Report because you know I just don't feel like it! (*laughing) I mean it's just too great of a day, man. This river is frickin' outrageous! And that's just the way you just can be feeling. Because you know what? We've got the Sun coming up to square Jupiter. Sun square Jupiter, indulgence, lazy, optimistic, happy-go-lucky. 'Let's just let it flow and let it happen. I feel expansive, I feel good.'

And then, Mars moving through Sagittarius coming up to square Neptune, that's going to be more intense next week. Neptune says, 'Ah, who cares?' Mars comes in and says, 'Well, I do!' Until Mars hits Neptune and then Mars joins Neptune and says, 'Hey, yeah, why bother?' (*laughing) So, we have a couple aspects here that are really good for parties, they're really good for having a good time and they're really good for relaxing. They're really good for talking to spirit. They're really good for feeling our inner-self and our inner-needs and inner-bodies coming together and sexually uniting with like, wow, just like beautiful. It's a lot about freedom, it's a lot about space.

Then we have this energy happening, Mercury moving through Aquarius and it's going to hit the South Node of the Moon. Did I say when that was? Thursday and Friday. Mercury, left brain thinking, analyzing, hitting the South Node in Aquarius. And again, we have this thing that I've been talking about for a while now, independence, individualization, liberation, enlightenment, awakening, going outside the box, moving beyond. And that's what really this mantra is about this week. Is that we can really get, and Mars in Sagittarius wants to just like take a trip to some foreign country or foreign land and Neptune in Pisces just wants to go to India and meditate, Himalayas and take off to some Shaman medicine or something. Jupiter in Scorpio, just wants to penetrate the deeper mysteries of life.

So, there's all this stuff that's really a good time for expansion of consciousness on very many planes and for many dimensional levels. As you can see, at the chart at the beginning, all the planets are above the horizon. Even the Moon moving through Scorpio, Sagittarius, Capricorn coming around to the eclipse in Aquarius, it's all above. This above is very transpersonal, objective, non-subjective. Uranus is the only planet down here in the very late degrees of Aries that is below the horizon. And that Aries through Virgo is this below the horizon – subjective self.

So, hence the mantra that talks about, 'Yes we can step outside the matrix. We can individualize. We can all get in our heads. Sagittarius can envision new future. Mars square Neptune can take us into la la land, dreamland, medicine land, mysticism, the magical mystery tour, fine, wonderful and dandy.

But, the North Node of the Moon is in Leo. The North Node of Pluto is in Cancer. The North Node of Jupiter and Saturn are in Cancer. These North Nodes have to do with the evolutionary path, it has to do with the unknown, the untried. But, as we go into the unknown and the untried, we evolve. So, in this particular case, at this particular time, as tempting as it might be to just leave your body and astro project, go out to the Peladies and la la, quack, quack. It's actually behooving you to remember that you have a heart, that you are a human being.

Our evolutionary journey on this planet, in this 3rd dimension, we will know it this weekend with the Moon moving through Capricorn, hitting Saturn, Lilith and Pluto. This planet is really about connecting. We have egos here, we have separate physical bodies here. We have our own bank accounts here. So, the challenge is here. Out there is almost escapism at this point. We can go into our heads and we're liberated and enlighten and we can know everything. But that's not the challenge. The challenge is to bring it in, to bring it down, to be humble, to be human, to be devotional. To really give of ourselves. Not what we know, but coming out of our comfort zones and really being here for each other and with each other. Bonding emotionally, sexually, physically, financially. This is the challenge, I mean we can all connect on spirit and we're all psychically connected and we can dream about each other and blah, blah, blah – come on, man! (*laughing) Let's get real, lets make it happen. North Node in Leo says, 'Co-create this new paradigm, in a new way!'

The Mantra for today:

It's good to step out and look ahead, (That's Sagittarius/Aquarius.)

Reinventing myself anew, (Aquarius is the inventor. The North Node in Leo is, inventing myself.)

As long as I don't get stuck in my head,

But keep my heart open too.

What we want to do is be uniting above and below. Air and fire with earth and water, masculine with feminine - we want to merge these together. We don't want to set off Aquarius and Sagittarius, this fire, Pisces is ether. We want to come in to this Jupiter in water. The North Node of Pluto and Saturn in Cancer, is more water. Saturn/Pluto in Capricorn, is earth.

Let's try doing the uniting and take the ideas, the philosophies, the truth and the teachings and turn them into love. Love has to do with sacrifice, with giving, with really being there for somebody else. And really nurturing, nursing, holding, creating safe space. This is the new paradigm of love, instead of a new paradigm of information. That is the danger of our Age of Aquarius, turning into screen people that google everything and know everything and are a bunch of frickin' robots, bunch of frickin' automaton's that have lost touch with their hearts. This North Node in Leo is helping, teaching, pointing the way for each and everyone of us to really stay in our human heart – yeah, baby!

Speaking of Valentine's Day, it's coming up. I wanted to do some announcements here. I am coming to Mallorca, Spain, workshop, "Alchemical Transformation from Death and Resurrection." We want to celebrate this Scorpio, death and dying. So, I'm doing a lot of Scorpio, Jupiter in Scorpio in Mallorca, Athens and Crete, Greece and Berlin, Germany. So, check out my website and I'll put the link below if you're over there in that area. I look forward to seeing you. <https://newparadigmastrology.com/april-27-may-2-2018-mallorca-spain/>

In the meantime, we've got this raffle going on. I just posted this raffle, free reading, free video's, all kinds of astrology. If you want to learn more astrology, now is a great opportunity. I will put the link to the raffle in the notes below. And I hope to see you or hear from you or have you join the community. <https://newparadigmastrology.com/product/valentines-day-affle/>

I just did another video, Jupiter through the houses. It's free for the New Paradigm Astrology community. You can join that community and get more of these video's that I do all the time – this is an hour long one, getting more personally into your chart. Check that baby out! I'll put up a link for that. <https://newparadigmastrology.com/signup/>

One more time:

It's good to step out and look ahead,
Reinventing myself anew,
As long as I don't get stuck in my head,
But keep my heart open too.

Let's get together... let's make it happen... let's love one another!

Namaste, Aloha, So Much Love!
