

The HSE (Health, Safety and Environment) policy is incorporated in the way Raízen conducts its business. We handle today looking into the future, operating in a safe, ethical and sustainable manner. It is up to each employee to commit to himself/herself assume a behavior compatible with a safe environment, wherever the activity is carried out.

Raízen is committed to:

- Promote the health, safety, environment preservation and asset integrity as well as the well-being of all employees and surrounding communities;
- Exercise a leadership role, promoting best practices in our activities and facilities;
- Promote active participation, while training and raising employee awareness aiming their development and commitment to the HSE objectives;
- Involve and sensitize all people under its management to the promotion of a culture in which everyone shares a responsible commitment to health, safety and socio-environmental performance;
- Have a systematic approach to HSE management, developed to ensure compliance of operations, legal requirements, applicable regulations and Raízen standards;
- Promote actions that ensure the protection of people, communities, the environment and efficiently use resources to deliver our products and services;
- Request contractors to conduct their HSE activities in line with this policy;
- Determine that its subsidiaries and controlled companies apply this politic and use its influence to promote it in other facilities;
- Promote continuous improvement in HSE.
