

COOKIE PRIVACY NOTICE

This Privacy Notice applies to users (“You” or “User”) of the websites of Ecorodovias Infraestrutura e Logística S.A. and its affiliates (“Ecorodovias” or “Us”) in Brazil.

This Privacy Notice was created to inform You about how EcoRodovias processes your personal data when you visit the website.

We use cookies to improve performance on our website and your experience when visiting.

Cookies: text files created by a website and stored on your device through the browser or application You use, which may store data related to your preferences.

Purposes: our cookies are used to customize your experience by facilitating your visit to the website, enhancing performance and usability and storing information about your visit, such as: your language preference, location, how often you visit and other factors that we consider relevant to further streamlining your experience.

Cookies also may be used to compile anonymous and aggregated statistics that allow us to understand how users visit and interact with our website, including the originating website (Google or Facebook), as well as to enhance its framework and content.

Type of cookies we use: we make use of session (date, time, location), statistical (number of visits) and functional cookies, which improve security for You when using our website and provide functionality based on your preferences, as long as You use the same device.

You can change your cookie settings at any time, either to disable or delete them, by simply changing your browser settings, as shown in the links below. Note that if you delete or disable one or more cookies, You may no longer be able to visit certain sections of our website or receive personalized information on our website.
